Scout 'Clean-Up' Slated For Saturday

The Appomattox Boy and Girl Scout troops will continue their beautification project on Saturday, May 20 as they will all pitch-in to "clean-up Appomattox."

All Girl Scout troops will assemble at 12:30 p.m. at the area directly across from Moses Motor Company on Confederate Boulevard while the Boy Scouts will gather at the same time at the area owned by the Ferguson estate directly across from Appomattox Court House. The Scouts will then begin to beautify both of these areas by cleaning the areas first and then seeding grass seed and seedlings and planting flowers.

The Scouts would like to invite every concerned citizen of Appomattox to come out and view the clean-up activities. Hopefully, this action by the Scouts will inspire many of you, the people of Appomattox, to become more aware of the need to care for our community.

Loans Can Ease Storage Problems

Pointing out that many farmers experienced problems last fall in finding storage facilities for grain, a local farm program official suggested that use of the farm facility loan program of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) can help prevent a repetition this fall.

Five-year-term loans up to $35,000, at a current interest rate of approximately 5 1/2 percent, are available to farmers producing commodities eligible for support. Application should be made at the county office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) which maintains the record for the farm to which the loan application relates, according to J. P. Alvis, Jr., Chairman of the county ASCS Committee.

The loan interest rate in the program was recently lowered to 46 cents per $100 or fraction thereof per month, or approximately 5 1/2 percent annually, a decrease from the previous 6 percent rate. Lower borrowing cost of the Commodity credit Corporation made it possible to lower the rate.

"On-farm storage has several advantages for producers. To begin with, it gives them more flexibility at harvest time. They can save field losses by harvesting when the crop is ready. With on-farm storage, they can stretch the marketing period for their crops, using a support loan to help carry them through. In years of excess production, they can re-seal their grain under support loan in on-farm storage and, with proper facilities, maintain the grain in good condition. Producers with ample on-farm storage are not completely at the mercy of such events as transportation strikes, boxcar shortages, depressed markets, and scarcity of commercial storage space," Mr. Alvis said.

Eligible structures under the program include new grain storage structures both of conventional design and 'wet storage' types provided they are weathertight and suitable for use for dry storage. Multi-purpose structures also are eligible for loan.

Eligible drying equipment under the facility loan program includes continuous-flow type dryers, drying systems with wagons or trailers as an integral part, batch or in-store drying systems, and new equipment which conditions or facilities drying by aerating, circulating, or stirring the commodity.

All structures and equipment must be new, with the exception of that purchased from a commodity Credit Corporation.

In general, farmers who produce commodities eligible for support loans, and who need the proposed on-farm storage facilities or drying equipment are eligible for loans, the Chairman said. Storage needs are determined on the basis of two years production of the eligible crops.

Complete details about the farm storage and drying equipment loan program are available at the ASCS County Office.

Speaks On Estate Planning

Carroll P. Freeman spoke recently to the Oakville Ruritan Club on Estate Planning. Mr. Freeman is a member of the trust department of Fidelity National Bank.

He received his law degree from the University of Virginia, Law School in 1971. He is also a second lieutenant in the Virginia National Guard, and is married to the former Nancy Burke.

Mr. Freeman pointed out the importance of both husband and wife making a will, and having it drawn up by a competent person. This is the only way to be certain that ones estate will be handled according to ones wishes, otherwise the estate will be handled according to the laws of the state in which you live and by federal laws.

Mr. Freeman pointed out many ways in which one might handle his estate and avoid excessive taxes.

Oakville Ruritans are looking farward to having Judge George Abbitt as their guest speaker in June.
